THE LIV STORY

The story of LIV was birthed in 1997 in the heart of ex-South African cricketer, Tich Smith, a vision to build a village for orphaned and vulnerable children, where they could grow up in a home with a mother to love them, food to eat, a school to educate them, and where they would come to know they have a Father in heaven who loves them. Part of the vision was also to create jobs for individuals in surrounding communities so they could earn a living and look after their families.

With the building of the first village in Durban, which opened in 2011, the vision became a reality and many young lives have since been rescued, restored, raised up, and released into their future.

Today we have over 50 LIV children who have completed their schooling and a number of them now work in our LIV cafés, stores, and warehouses. Others are pursuing tertiary education, with many qualified with degrees and working in various parts of the country and abroad.

If you would like to support LIV by sponsoring a child, or learn more about work opportunities for these young adults, please contact Joan on 083 778 6187.

Thank you for supporting our beautiful café and store. Together we can make a difference in many more lives.
